Patio Pond Kits have these major components:

- Rock Pond Liner Base – (This is the piece that actually holds water).
- Rock Surround – (This is the piece that looks like a large hollow boulder).
- Waterfall
- Pump cover rock (optional extra).

Installation Guide

- Begin by placing the rock liner on a relatively flat and level surface.
- Place the rock surround over the rock liner (sometimes when placing the surround over the pond base, it may be necessary to bend the top edge in one or two places to allow the surround to sit flat. This is best to be done before filling the pond with water).
- Now is the time to look at the alignment to be sure that the patio pond looks good in your setting.
- Place the waterfall on the rock surround to the most desirable and level position.
- Your pond should now be ready to fill with water.
- Connect the water pump to the waterfall. Plug in the pump – we recommend using a GFCI protected, outdoor rated plug.
- Please consult with a qualified electrician if you are unsure of your connection.
- Pump cover rocks are also available to help you disguise the rock and tubing. This is simply placed on top of your pump and tubing to continue the natural appeal.
- Rocks and pebbles can be placed on the water outlet of the waterfall as well as scattered about the surface of the waterfall – this helps to disperse the water more evenly.
- Now is the time to use plants and water plants together with decoration ornaments of your choice.
- After water has been conditioned, fish can be added.

Rock Bowls

All Rocks & Rock Bowls are hollow & therefore may be cut to allow your pets to crawl into for hiding etc.

Rock can be cut with a sharp knife to required size.

Always use caution when cutting with sharp instruments.

Universal Rocks... so authentic you'd swear they were real!

All Universal Rocks products are "aquarium and reptile friendly".

Now easier than ever, our Rocky backgrounds, Ledge Backgrounds, and various other 3D backgrounds come complete with magnets to make installation effortless!

All background measurements quoted, are suitable for those tank sizes – backgrounds will vary slightly in length and height.

Our products are crafted by hand so all weights and measurements quoted are approximate.

All products are hand-colored therefore variations will occur.

Only the Marine products are available in the marine color.

Aquarium backgrounds can be cut down to suit smaller tanks by using a sharp rigid blade or some electrical cutting tools. Always use caution when cutting with sharp instruments.

All rocks are hollow and may be cut to allow your fish or reptile places to hide.

Aquarium rocks can be used in both wet and dry tanks.

Reptile rocks can ONLY be used in dry tanks – they will float in wet tanks.

Please use the appropriate code when ordering "A" for Aquarium and "R" for reptile tank.

Aquarium backgrounds and rocks can be secured in place with silicone. The edges can be camouflaged by applying crushed rock and colored sands while the silicone is wet.

Our products can be washed and scrubbed down with a stiff bristled brush, power washed or bleached.

We suggest that you wash your new rock or background before installing into your tank.

Most importantly... enjoy creating a natural environment with Universal Rocks.
